

INTRODUCING: MICHAEL THE MUSICMAKER

Michael playing at the Ritz

Michael the musicmaker lives, dreams and breathes music. This former production manager has returned to the stage of music with passion and diversity. A part time music teacher, choir director and a freelance musician who enjoys playing music for those special moments when you just want that touch of sophistication and elegance.

He started playing the piano at age 6 and entered the world of music, and successfully completed examinations conducted by the Trinity College of Music, London. Michael who also plays by ear, enjoys teaching and playing many genres of music on his synthesizers/ keyboards or piano.

Musicmaker - Style

Bringing together Classical , Reggae and Caribbean sounds with Rhythm and Blues Michael plays with soul, tunes from the roaring seventies to the latest contemporary styles of the present. Influenced by Stevie Wonder , Andre Crouch and many musical icons Michael is comfortable playing at your special occasions. He can be found solo or in combination with other musicians at various events, playing or accompanying the likes of Myrna Hague-Bradshaw or Mickey Hanson. He is one of the band members of Birthright, a Christian contemporary band.
